

Supplementary Materials B:
Codebook for scoring corrective culture in responses to patient feedback

1. Introduction:

Below are instructions for rating a story and response pair from a healthcare provider. You will be provided with a spreadsheet where you should:

- (a) Click on the link provided
- (b) Rate the story using the “Harm Rating” section below (columns with prefix “story_”)
- (c) If there is any harm, rate the story using the “Story Rating” section below (columns with prefix “story_”)
- (d) If there is any harm, rate the response using the “Response Rating section below (columns with prefix “response_”)*

When there are multiple responses, ensure you are rating the 1st one (or oldest) response that the story received.*

2. General terminology

Healthcare provider: The organisation who the story is directed towards.

Storyteller: The person relaying the story (e.g., patient, loved one, friend)

Responder: The person replying to the story (e.g., complaints handler).

Story: The story about a healthcare provider.

Complaint: A story that provides negative feedback about the healthcare provider.

Issue: Problems raised within a complaint.

Response: The healthcare provider's response to the story.

3. Identifying if feedback is a complaint

Below is a story written by a person about their experiences with a healthcare provider. Your task is to identify whether the story is a complaint by indicating whether the story reports any patient harm caused by an error, failure, or violation by the healthcare provider.

The harm must have been caused by a health service mishap or actions taken by healthcare workers.

Please answer the following questions.

First, is this story a complaint?

Scoring scheme:

[0] - "No"

[1] - "Yes"

4. Rating corrective culture in responses

Note: Only fill this out if the story is a complaint.

Below is a complaint about a healthcare provider and the provider's response to the complaint.

Your task is to assess the quality and degree of engagement in the response.
Please answer the following questions.

First, Does the response engage with the issues raised in the complaint?

Scoring scheme:

[0] "Low" - Response is generic and does not mention any of the issues raised.

[1] "Mid" - Response provides a rudimentary or brief paraphrasing of one or more issues.

[2] "High" – Response demonstrates in-depth engagement with one or more issues.

Second, does the response report any evidence of organisational learning?

Scoring scheme:

[0] "No learning" – Does not report any current or future measures to prevent issue(s) occurring in future.

[1] "Learning evidenced" - Reports specific current or future measures to prevent issue(s) occurring in future.
